

ASPRA

Editor's Report

June 2022

1989 - 2022

The summer issue (2000 copies) is now almost ready to transfer to the printer.

Our families were all hit by covid infections through April, and the consequent knock-on to personal and domestic rearrangements have delayed things for some weeks.

Work is back on track now and we hope to be ready to pass the magazine on to the printers within the next few days. Distribution should then be possible at the beginning of July.

When distribution is complete I would like to relinquish the email address editor@aspra.uk and I'll negotiate with Dave how this is best done.

Leaving the magazine, of course, means standing down from the ASPRA committee. Our presence at even this week's meeting is probably redundant so I'm not planning to attend.

I know I speak for Colin too in wishing our successors the best, and I'm sure we'll both remain as available as possible for such help as we can offer.

With regards and best wishes to all.

Phil
June 2022